Incumbents sweep South Bay election

Veteran Commissioners Clarence Anthony and Willie Marshall both won a decisive victory in South Bay's election Tuesday, March 12.
During the day, 1,221 registered voters went out to mark their ballots in South Bay. An additional one hundred voters went to the polls this year over last year. Many were holding signs in support of the candidate they wanted to see win.

In Group 1, Clarence Anthony, 36, won his seventh two-year term with 72% of the vote. Anthony has been a city vote. Anthony has been a city commissioner since 1984 and mayor since 1985 for South Bay. 'I would like to thank the voters of South Bay for their continued support and for their continued support and for the belief they have in my ability to lead them. I am using my time and energy to do the things I love. I am doing what the citizens want me to do," said Clarence Anthony. the citizens want me to said Clarence Anthony. As strange as it may sound, the climate of the east coast of, the United States could actually become cooler because of global warming. A new study Stefan Rahmstorf of the University of Kiel in Germany says it could happen.

The east coast tends to be a bit warmer than other areas of similar latitude because of the Gulf Stream. The Gulf Stream is a ten to 15 mile wide current that tuns along the coastline shuttling warm water from the tropics to the cooler north Atlantic.

Rahmstorf discovered that the Gulf Stream is fragile and could breakdown-a breakdown that could mean very cold win-

There is some good news in Rahmstorf's study. In a worst-case scenario it would take about 200 years to shutdown the Gulf Stream completely. So, at least we have time to work on the problem.

The Glades Boys & Girls Club experiences growing pains

Special Events Coordinator
Children experience what we call growing pains all the time, but the growing pains of the Boys & Girls Clubs this past year might be compared to a 5 foot 10 inch child becoming 6 foot 5 inches within a three month time frame. Our clothes do not fit. We look completely different and we are learning to use our arms and legs all over again.

over again.

In early January 1995, the Boys and Girls Clubs of Palm Beach County, which already had several growth spurts, began a small pilot program.serving the Glades area children. Then in October, we officially opened three clubs in the Glades simultaneously. The Clubs, located at Belle Glade Elementary and Glade View Elementary in Belle Glade and Rosenwald Elemen-tary in South Bay, brought the first truly afford-able and widespread out-of-school program to these area children. While we had experienced expansions before, never had we grown so quickly.

The reasons are abundantly clear. While some schools were offering a program after hours, most families could not afford the fee of nearly $100 per month per child. Citing the areas 1990 census per capita income estimates of $8,243, it's easily understood. Due to the lack of affordable programming, children had little or no choice but to go home to an empty house each day after school and to spend school breaks and The reasons are abundantly clear. Viewpoint of a farmer's wife

By Kathy War Warr Farms Moore Haven

Wake up, Florida residents - big governme is trying to "pull the wool over your eyes" again, and now some extremist environmentalists have joined forces with them!

have joined forces with them!

Florida sugar farmers are not the bad guy here. With the implementation of the Everglades Porever Act, which is a rarely mentioned project started in 1994, we are paying our fair share for the Everglades clean up project. We will be paying $320,000,000 over the next 20 years to help restore the Everglades.

Also, by implementing the Southwest Florida Water Management approved BMP or "best Management practices" the discharge of water from sugar farms will eventually have legs phosphorus than rain water. Other BMP have from sugar farms will eventually have less phosphorus than rain water. Other BMP's have been implemented also, including laser leveling of fields to reduce runoff, and crop rotation with rice. Rotating rice after sugar cane helps to renourish the soil, reducing the need for fertilizer, and naturally destroys soil nematodes which er, and naturally ussays to damages the sugar crop. In addition, farmers are using a fertilizer technique called "banding" which limits the area in which fertilizer is distributed to just the area where the new seed cane is planted. Farmers where the new seed cane is planted. Farmers where the new seed cane is planted. Farmers where the new seed cane is planted.

area where the new seed cane is planted. Farmers are working to save the land for the generations to come - not destroying it as Vice President Gore would have you believe.

We can and have made changes on our farms to improve the environment and the ecosystem. Remember, the Everglades originally stretched from almost the Atlantic coast to the Gulf of Mexico in areas. What does that land look like now? Sugar cane farmers are not the culprits in this issue. Urban sprawl with the cities, pollution, run off, over crowding, sewers, buildings, carbon monoxide, and large developments certainly contributed to the Everglades problem long before farmers did. before farmers did.
for Vice President Gore's statement that

As for Vice President Gore's statement that we have destroyed 90 percent of the wildlife, come look at any of the sugar farms and surrounding areas. wildlife abounds! Numerous species of birds, alligators, rabbits, hogs, snakes and even an occasional wild turkey walks onto

A penny-a-pound tax that was suggested by Gore last week in Miami in front of an audience Core mass week in onam in front of an audence of environmentalists would eliminate many of the 130 small sugar farmers. That is half of our income gone to pay the Clinton administration to claim our land and for what?

By the way - the proposed tax would be used to buy our land and convert it to Everglades. Do you see big government taking better care of our land than farmers do? Taking care of the land is our business, not our sideline. A penny a pound tax on sugar would be approximately $75 per acre - more than five times the ad valorem tax presently assessed on our land in Glades County, and a penny-a-pound tax could not be passed on to the consumer because the sugar growers do not set the price for their product - the government does.

Florida sugar farmers have some of the most efficient and economically run farms in the United States, with Florida providing about 20 percent of the sugar produced by this country. The total production of all sugar cane growers and beet growers produces only 80 percent of the sugar needed in the United States, the rest is coming from 40 different foreign countries.

is coming from 40 different foreign countries.

Cheap, excess, low quality sugar that foreign countries could not sell in their own countries countries could not sell in their own countries often referred to as 'world sugar is then put on the world sugar market. We can get the 20 percent we require to cover our needs in the United States now, but if the Florida sugar farmer goes out of business because of big government, we will all pay a much higher price.

Cheap sugar bought at the world market price will not exist anymore, because the supply will be down, the demand will be up and that means higher prices for the American consumer, including higher prices in refined sugar, soft drinks, candy bars, cereal and more.

Currently, consumers in Germany are paying 51 cents and the Japanese are paying $1.04 retail price per pound of sugar compared to the 39 cents per pound we are paying in the United States.

States.

You can stop this interference by big government by learning more about what is really happening to the sugar farmers.

Take a drive out to a sugar farm. Check out the wildlife and the clean running water and the pride and hard work that goes into maintaining an American tradition. I know big government can not fool you for long.

There aren't visible lines dividing the waterways into traffic lanes, but boaters operating in crowded lakes and harbors stay on their side of the road to avoid collisions.

The principle all must follow is: only one boat has the right-of-way. This boat is termed privileged, and is expected to proceed without changing course or altering speed. A boat not having the right-of-way must yield to the privileged vessel. This is a simple rule, as these basic situations show.

CROSSING: Crossing occurs when two boats approach at an angle. If another boat approaches from the right (starboard) side, that boat is privileged and has the right-of-way. That boat holds its course and speed. The 'burdened' vessel yields by slowing down or stopping and passes behind the other boat.

SPECIAL CIRCUM-SPECIAL CIRCUM-STANCES: Boats propelled by oars or paddles have the right-of-way over motor-powered boats. The same applies with sailboats. However, when a sailboat overtakes a power-boat, the powerboat is privi-leged and has the right-of-way.

evening, March 17th, at 7 p.m.
One of the Glades gifted and talented individuals, Marion Hatton, will be sharing her story of God's activity in her life. Marion said, "God has taken us through the floods and the fire, and He's never left us or forsaken us!" Throughout her life, Marion and her husband, Dr. R.L. Latton, have invested them-selves in the life of the Glades community, Marion directed selves in the life of the Glades community. Marion directed the Pahokee First United Methodist Church choir for 29 years, and the Good Shepherd Church of God choir for 10 years. She was also the choir director at the Christian Mis-sionary and Alliance Church, in Belle Glade for several years. Music has always been an integral part of Marion's life. She was a professional
